Fee Paid ($2,000 profit; $1,000 non-profit) _____ Date _____

Payment of the yearly fee for access by an institution/ corporation entitles one staff member designated by that institution to access the Weill Cornell Medical Library and its collections. The institution may designate additional cardholders for a fee of $200 per year each if a profit-making institution, and $100 per year each if a non-profit institution.

Before using the Library, each designated individual must register at the Circulation Desk. An identification card will be issued to each designated individual. This card must be presented at each Library visit. It is not transferable to another employee, and it will be confiscated if the bearer is not the individual named on the card.

Fee for access does not entitles the user(s) to borrowing privileges. For a full description of the program see the webpage at: <http://library2.med.cornell.edu/Unaffiliated/>

Like all library users, subscribers are bound by the written regulations of the Weill Cornell Medical Library and its rules for user conduct. Copies of these are available at the Circulation Desk.
