ADMINISTRATIVE/BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE:

Dr. Meister was born on June 1, 1922, in New York, NY. He received a BS from Harvard University in 1942 and a MD from Cornell University Medical College in 1945. After graduation, he completed one year of residency at New York Hospital. In 1947, he became a research investigator for the NIH and in 1951, the head of the National Cancer Institute's Clinical Biochemical Research Section. He left the NIH in 1955 to become the professor and chairman of the Department of Biochemistry at Tufts University, School of Medicine in Boston, MA. In 1967, he came to this medical center to chair our Department of Biochemistry. He was also appointed biochemist-in-chief of the medical center in 1971. He retired from Cornell in 1992, but continued as biochemist-in-chief until his death in 1995.

Dr. Meister was internationally known for his work with amino acids with special interest in gluathione, an amino acid compound. He received the American Chemical Society's Paul Lewis Award in Enzyme Chemistry in 1954. Later his work with gluathione led to a drug treatment for AIDS.

He died on April 6, 1995.
